REWILD YOUR SKIN
with probiotic skincare

MICROBIOME
SKINCARE

YOUR SKIN IS AN ECOSYSTEM

Your skin microbiome is an ecology of billions of diverse microbes that protect it from pathogens. Similar to your gut, these microbes play essential roles in protecting your skin and communicating with your immune system.

LOVE YOUR SKIN MICROBIOME

Your skin microbiome helps skin:

- produce Hyaluronic Acid and other moisturising factors;
- modulate barrier function and immune response;
- maintain the pH and produce calm, healthy skin that not only looks better, but ages slower.

REWILDING

A healthy microbiome is the natural way to keep skin looking younger for longer.

Rewilding is the science of returning your skin's microbiome to its balanced and “wild” state with probiotics and organic biotechnology.

By creating an environment for your skin's natural microbes to flourish, Esse can help restore its ecology and restore the balance to let your skin thrive.

ESSE MICROBIOME SKINCARE

Esse researches rewilding techniques to restore your skin's microbiome with probiotics and organic biotechnology.

We use organic biotechnology to create an environment on skin that allows your natural microbial biodiversity to return.

Probiotics and prebiotics in organic formulations help to restore the balance to REWILD YOUR SKIN.

ESSE CLARIFYING

Biotechnology for problem skin

More than 80% of teens and around 4% of adults get acne. This condition is either absent or very rare in people that live traditional rural lifestyles.

The Clarifying Range offers an alternative approach to this inflammatory skin condition by combining more conventional active ingredients, like Salicylic Acid, with microbiome technology to re-establish a healthy balance.

The products minimise disruption of the skin barrier resulting in a reduction of the inflammatory load on skin. Targeted ingredients are included to absorb impurities, regulate sebum production, reduce bacterial overgrowth and calm inflamed skin.

Spot Corrector

Apply sparingly and directly to problem areas. Apply morning and evening after Clarifying Oil and Serum.

IN THE FUTURE, WE WILL ALL ENCOURAGE OUR SKIN'S MICROBES TO FLOURISH.

A thriving microbiome is the key to maintaining youthful-looking skin for longer. Conventional skin products that rely on synthetic ingredients and harsh preservatives do not take into account that skin is a complex ecosystem of hundreds of microbial species ... just like your gut.

At Esse, we focus on rewilding techniques that help restore your skin's microbiome using organic biotechnology. Our products are designed to nourish your skin's beneficial microbes by introducing therapeutic-grade probiotics that reduce skin sensitivity and slow down the ageing process.

The future of skincare is pro-biotic, not anti-biotic, and this future begins now.
